REPORT OF PRINCIPAL AND SCHOOL IMPROVEMENT COUNCIL

The 2013-2014 school year at Marlboro County School of Discovery has proven to be another successful school year despite many changes. This school year brought about a change in instructional leadership when Mr. William Jorgensen was named principal. Our small school also welcomed five new faces to the faculty for the 2013-2014 school year. Through-out the change we continued to see a strong academic focus while reducing the number of student discipline incidents for the year.

Marlboro School of Discovery continues to encourage excellence in academics and the arts. Two students were recognized as South Carolina Junior Scholars. Multiple students represented our school at the 2014 Regional Science Fair with two students placing in the regionals. Our school spelling bee winner also participated in the regionals against forty-two contestants where she finished third in the regionals. Finally, our academic challenge team participated successfully in the league and regionals hosted by Francis Marion University.

Our students are recognized beyond the school level for their talents and artistic abilities. In September one of our students was named the March of Dimes National Middle School Youth Volunteer of the year. Our Discovery Singers and Discovery Dancers performed at Fiesta-Val in Myrtle Beach with both groups garnering Superior Ratings. Several of those students received individual awards as well for being best soloists in competition. Our Discovery Jazz Band garnered a Superior Rating during their trip to the South Carolina Jazz competition hosted at Newberry College. Two trumpet players received additional awards for being best soloists during this competition. Marlboro School of Discovery had two students selected to All-District Band and four students selected to All-Region Band. Our school continued to support our community service projects by participating in Jump Rope for Hearts, Pennies for Patients, and March for Babies through the March of Dimes.

It is our mission to help our students reach their highest potential. This is accomplished by working together with our faculty, staff, district, parents, and learning communities to uphold our belief in lifelong learning and academic excellence.
